

To customers and friends of Evergreen...

We hope the best for your safety and health in these difficult times. With the concerns and anxieties that touch everyone, be assured that Evergreen continues to monitor developments of the Coronavirus and we've been taking steps to ensure the safety and wellness of our employees and following the CDC workplace guidelines regarding COVID-19.

We continue to run full capacity, maintaining all plant operations, equipment and personnel, while being prepared as best possible for any changes we might need to adapt. All publications, including 6 dailies have full capacity from us to publish as usual. We have felt the impact from many publisher-customers. Understandably, as publishers, you are on the front lines of this with advertising from large and small businesses being hard hit. We appreciate your business and continue to accommodate everyone's needs as best we can. We will navigate through this pandemic with best efforts and intentions for all.

We've become an alternative print provider already for several new customers. For heatset magazine, non-heatset products, and newspaper production, we have available press time and offer our services if needed. Let us know what you need - now or for the future, and we will assist as best we can.

To you, your staff and all families – our hopes are for your health, safety, and financial stability in these trying times.
